Oujiyama 2nd Burial Mound

From an excavation conducted in 1972, the Oujiyama 2nd Burial Mound was determined to be over 20 meters in diameter and upwards of 2 meters tall. It was also discovered that this mound was constructed by carving down the hillside it was built upon and piling up dirt on top of it. However, since burial facilities from within the mound (such as coffins) have not been discovered, it is unknown what kind of person was buried here.
