

3_7_English_石釜古墳群

Ishigama Burial Mounds

The Ishigama Burial Mounds is a cluster of 14 mounds that are considered a branch of the Mt. Mandara Burial Mounds. The interior of each mound primarily consists of horizontal stone chambers, which are thought to have been constructed using stone taken from the quarry located south of the mounds.